

Vehicle Access to the School Grounds

Some students are brought by car to school in the mornings and are picked up by their parents in the afternoons. This sometimes leads to dangerous situations since turning maneuvers are extremely risky in the courtyard's narrow entrance area.

Therefore, parents should avoid driving onto the school grounds if at all possible. Instead, they can drop their children off in the area across from the school and next to the parking structure.

Alternatively, parents can drop off and pick up their children at the back entrance to the school on Badestraße. However, there is also the danger of collisions here since many cyclists use this access to the school grounds before and after classes. Therefore, the area in front of the entrance must remain free at all times (stopping here is forbidden).

The safest drop-off spot for children on Badestraße is either in the turning area in front of the bridge over the Aa (access to Stadtbad Mitte) or before the access to the court parking garage (the front section of Badestraße).
